Introduction to the Creative Potential Natal Report

The Earth-centered chart has been the standard in astrological interpretation since the beginning. Your horoscope addresses every area of your personal life: it describes your personality and character, your work, love life, family, children, financial affairs, education, friends, social status, and private life. It reflects tendencies in health and creativity as well as travel and religion. Whatever question you may have, an astrologer can find some answers in the geocentric chart. Some factors in the report depend on an accurate birth time. If you don't know your birth time, then any interpretations relating to houses have less accuracy.

Introduction to Signs

The signs provide the background for the movement of planets and moons. From our point of view, they provide twelve filters for the light of the planets and moons and modify or focus those energies.

Introduction to Degree Divisions of Signs

Each sign of the zodiac may be divided into equal segments, and each segment describes something of the nature of the planet in that part of the sign. The Quad divides the sign into four equal parts. This placement identifies key traits of the planet that focus on your worldview in terms of personal, family, community and humanitarian issues. Decanates are three segments of ten degrees each. These divisions speak to the mental expression of energy, just as the signs themselves express most directly on the physical plane. Dwads divide the sign into twelve segments, and these segments suggest a developmental quality of the planet as it expresses emotional and spiritual facets of your personality. Degree divisions refine the above considerations even further.

Your interpretation provides keys and interpretations for the quad, decanate and dwad divisions. The key for each degree indicates a fundamental factor at play for the planet and the natural direction that energy moves.

Introduction to Aspects

An aspect is the angular relationship between two points in a chart. Different aspects indicate different influences between the planets. Thus one person with the Sun in square aspect to Jupiter will have a very different energetic experience from a person with the Sun trine to Jupiter.

Introduction to Key Phrases

As a human being, intelligent activity is your birthright. It is demonstrated through creativity; this reading will consider your own creative potential and processes. The keywords and upper harmonic moons and asteroids throughout the report come from SELF EVIDENT ASTROLOGY(tm). The upper harmonics reveal multiple possibilities for the potential contained in the planet's energies.

You may notice repeated text in your report: it indicates an area of your life that is in high focus. The planets or upper harmonics involved reflect the specific qualities you can develop and use in that area of life.

Sun Introduction

THE LIGHTS: SUN AND MOON

A key to understanding the Sun and Moon is to remember that human beings, by nature of their physical existence, polarize all experience. What does this mean? To hear, you must be able to interpret variations in sound waves. To see, you must be able to interpret shades of color amid light and dark. To feel heat/cold, hard/soft, or light/heavy, you must be able to discern differences. Because you perceive dualities through your own personal filters, you will never perceive a situation or thing exactly the way someone else perceives it. However, you do have internal consistency where perceptions are concerned.

Even though you know that the Sun is immense in size, when you look at the sky, the Moon appears to be the same size. The Sun and Moon reflect equal parts of your experience. The Sun reflects the conscious center of the psyche—the primary focal point of your ambition and life mission. The Moon tells you about your less conscious side. Your most pressing agendas in life arise from the unconscious mind. Often unbidden, sometimes unwanted, these urges drive you forward in life. On the positive side, the inner voice is always with you, it never deserts you, and it continues to speak, even when you don't listen. But when you do listen, there is a wealth of encouragement and guidance at your disposal.

The Sun

The Sun represents the direction of your personal mission and spiritual path. The Sun is the source of life, and as such it is one of the most powerful point in the chart. The Sun's placement provides a focus for the conscious experience of your energy. Your Sun sign shows the direction of your energy -- the thrust of your individuality. The house shows where you will exert your energy and where vitality will express most naturally.

Sun in Leo

The Sun in Leo recognizes the Light within us as a powerful force for growth. It is the Light that urges plants toward the Sun; it is the Light itself that demands that we grow in understanding. The creative urge of Aries is tempered and modified, resulting in the fullness of life. Annual plants reach their full height and begin the process of fruiting; animal life reaches an exuberance that reflects the heat of the summer Sun.

The most positive strengths you possess include the capacity for leadership, self-confidence and creativity. A loss of vitality can result in pessimism about your talents; hence physical health is of major importance to your sense of self.

Sun in Quad 2

Your decision-making process develops directly from family interactions and social background. You bring vitality to your life by engaging in team efforts with family peers, and co-workers.

Sun in Decanate 2 of Leo

Leadership roles provide the context for your personal development. You pursue advancement with enthusiasm.
